ELECTION NEWS.

Harrison's Plurality in Indiana Estimated at 3,000.

EXCITEMENT STILL CONTINUES IN WEST VIRGINIA.

But the Republicans are Likely to be Victorious With a Majority of About 600. Even North Carolina May Go Republican—Cleveland Tells How It Happened. Election Notes.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 12.—Neither of the state committees are receiving any more returns, the indications pointing to about 3,000 plurality for the Republicans. Gen. Harrison was called upon by a committee representing the Commercial club, of Cincinnati and an invitation extended for him to attend the annual dinner at the Queen City club, November 30. The general took the matter under advisement.

It is estimated that the campaign in this state cost $500,000, two-thirds of which was borne by the Republicans.

The official canvass of the vote in Marion county gives Cleveland, 17,517; Harrison, 17,139. Bynum, for congress, carried the county by a plurality of 377. The only Republican elected in the county is Dr. Wagner, for coroner, whose majority is 41.

The Electors From New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Sun says it is possible that two of the candidates for presidential electors from this state are elected. This result, if it has really been accomplished, is brought about by the fact that the electoral ticket given out by the labor party included the names of thirty-four Republican electors, with the two labor electors-at-large at the head of the ticket, two of the Republican electors being necessarily omitted. It is thought that the number of labor votes thus cast were sufficient to defeat the two Republican electors omitted from the labor tickets, thus electing the Democratic electors-at-large. Such a division of the electoral vote in this state is not recalled by any politician.

West Virginia.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 12.—The excitement over the result of Tuesday's election still continues. Both parties figuring on the slow-coming returns and claiming the state. Forty counties polling 115,468 votes for president in 1884 show a Republican gain of 4,046. The remaining fourteen counties polling 16,689 votes will at the same ratio of gains give the Republicans a gain of 799, making a total net gain in the state of 4,845, which would give the state to the Republicans by 624 majority. Indications are that Atkinson, Flick and Smith, Republicans, are elected in the First, Second and Fourth congressional districts.

How the President Takes Defeat.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Sun's Washington special says: "The president continues to bear up wonderfully well under his misfortune. He takes the defeat philosophically, but he has not learned the true philosophic view of it, if what he said to one of his callers expresses his exact views, for in conversation with that gentleman he attributed his defeat solely to the lavish and corrupt use of money by the Republicans. This opinion he reiterated repeatedly and with emphasis, and he evidently believes, or tries to believe, that his tariff policy, in the language of the day, 'was all right.'"

Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Complete returns from the state show that Gen. Harrison's plurality over Cleveland is 21,134, and that Governor-elect Pifer has a plurality of 11,954 over Palmer. The Illinois legislature will stand: In the senate, Republicans 35, Democrats 15, Union Labor, 1. In the house, Republicans, 82, Democrats 71. Republican majority on joint ballot 30.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—William D. English, chairman of the Democratic state committee, concedes the election of Harrison by over 8,000. Two Democratic congressmen are elected—Cunnie in the Fifth and Biggs in the Second district.

Notes.

Lord Sackville West will visit the governor general of Canada, shortly.

Gen. Grosvenor thinks that McKinley will be the next speaker of the house of representatives.

Hon. Roger Q. Mills says that tariff reform must come and that Cleveland may be there in 1892.

The yardmen employed by the railways in Indianapolis have been granted an increase in wages since the election of Harrison.

Judge A. C. Thompson, of the Portsmouth district, thinks that Blaine and Sherman will both prefer places in the senate to cabinet positions.

It is rumored that Dan. Lamont will shortly resign his post as private secretary of President Cleveland and take the management of the New York Star.

It is thought by many that Gen. Harrison's private secretary will be D. L. Alexander, of Buffalo, N. Y. Mr. Alexander is a lawyer, journalist, and an intimate friend of Harrison.

Sherman thinks that the Mills bill was chiefly instrumental in defeating the Democratic party, because in reducing the tariff it made invidious distinction in favor of the south and against the north.

Maj. Braggins, chairman of the Republican committee of Cuyahoga county, has been arrested for forging the name of Hon. W. G. Rose to notes calling for $7,000. Braggins is in jail at Cleveland.

The general sentiment appears to be that Blaine can have anything he wants. Adj. Gen. Axline says that Blaine can be secretary of state or minister to England, and that Governor Foraker will be secretary of war.

Harrison's political friend in Indiana has little to say regarding the next cabinet. It is not believed that Indiana will ask for recognition, although ex-Governor Hanna thinks that Porter should be recognized. Indians think Quay may get a portfolio.

MEXICAN ENCROACHMENT.

Governor Ross Alarmed Over the Work of Greaser Engineers.

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 12.—The mayor and city council of El Paso has taken action which is calculated to lead to important diplomatic correspondence between the United States and Mexico. In an official communication to the city council, Mayor Lightbody stated that Mexican engineers, acting under authority of the Mexican government, were constructing embankments opposite El Paso, ostensibly to protect the Mexican bank of the Rio Grande, which embankments, he believed, would cause the river to damage the American bank. Moreover, he believed the Mexicans had already extended one of these embankments across the boundary, and were now working on American soil. He urged that immediate action should be taken to stop this work by force if necessary.

The council decided that the mayor should telegraph the facts to Governor Ross, and a message was sent, stating that the work is being prosecuted with the intention of changing the channel of the river. "Unless the work is at once arrested," says the message, "not only will the frontier be artificially changed, but serious injury will be inflicted on Texas land owners. What do you advise me to do in order to protect the territory of the state and of the United States, as the urgency of the case will hardly allow the delay necessary to obtain redress by the ordinary diplomatic channels?"

CIGARMAKERS SHUT OUT.

Their Places Filled, and a Conference Politely Refused.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—A few weeks ago the cigarmakers employed at the factory of Roig & Langsdorf, in this city, went on a strike, owing to some difference with the firm. Yesterday the general executive board of the Knights of Labor addressed a note to Messrs. Roig & Langsdorf requesting that the firm meet the representatives of National trades assembly No. 235 so that an amicable settlement of the difficulty might be made.

To this note Messrs. Roig & Langsdorf in the afternoon sent a reply to Secretary Hayes, of the general executive board, in which, after thanking him for the courteous tone of his note, they say they cannot see any reason for a conference as suggested. "In point of fact," their reply continues, "our employees are satisfied with us and we with them, and we are not aware that there is anything to discuss. Presumably you are acting on information received from gentlemen who were formerly in our employment, who left us without cause and whose places voluntarily abandoned by them have been filled. Much as we regret any loss or inconvenience they may suffer, we are powerless to help them."

OVER NIAGARA FALLS.

An Unknown Man Deliberately Jumps Into the Cataract.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 12.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon two gentlemen from Buffalo while viewing Prospect park noticed a stranger about twenty-five years old, standing close to the parapet wall at the brink of the falls. One of the gentlemen remarked to his friend: "I wonder how far down a boat could come and get back."

The stranger replied: "I don't know how far a boat could go, but I will show you how far I can go."

Throwing away a half-smoked cigar he jumped over the wall into the water a few feet from the brink, and at once passed over the falls. A watch was set for the body and in about half an hour it was found lying in an eddy just beyond where the falling water strikes. It was drawn to the shore. The body was badly broken up and had received several cuts. Both coat and vest were gone and the trousers were badly torn. There was nothing in the trousers' pocket but a red bandanna handkerchief.

Knocked Out in the First Round.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Frank Skinner and Frank Johnson, both clever light-weights, met in the ring near Jefferson early Friday morning. The battle was for $300 a side and gate receipts, and with two ounce gloves, Queensberry rules. At the start Skinner rushed upon his antagonist and dealt him a terrific blow in the mouth. Before Johnson could recover he was felled to the floor by a sledge hammer twister under the left jaw. He fell unconscious and lay upon his face twenty-five seconds before he showed any signs of life. He was then lifted to his corner and the fight was awarded to Skinner.

A Glimmer From Glendale, Ohio.

GLENDALF, O., Nov. 12.—Detective John T. Norris is in the village, following up a supposed clue to the person who murdered Exposition Commissioner Ross in 1884. It comes from a colored man named Robinson, who lives in Glendale. He accuses another colored man, Garrett, of Xenia, O., of having in his possession a watch and other property that resembled the description of that stolen from Ross.

Wages Advanced.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 12.—The striking New York Central switchmen have received the advance in wages which they demanded, and the threatened freight blockade is being rapidly raised. It is believed the fear that the freight brakemen and conductors would go out influenced the company in deciding this matter.

Native-Born Chinese are Citizens.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—United States Circuit Judge Sawyer has rendered a decision in the test cases of two Chinese, in which he holds that inasmuch as they were born in the United States they are citizens thereof, and not amenable to the act of congress excluding Chinese laborers.

Floods in Indiana.

SEYMOUR, Ind., Nov. 12.—Heavy rains have caused the Whit and Muscatuck rivers to overflow their banks, and the low-lying lands are inundated. Much live stock has been drowned, thousands of bushels of corn have been swept away and thousands more are endangered.

Brakeman Fatally Mangled.

WARSAW, Ind., Nov. 12.—Charles Weert, a brakeman on the Ft. Wayne road, fell under the cars at Atwood station, and was so badly mangled that death resulted almost instantly. His parents reside in Ft. Wayne.

THE FIRE FIEND

Claims a Number of Victims at Rochester, New York.

THIRTEEN WORKMEN KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN KILLED.

Regardless of the Consequences the Men Leap From the Fifth and Sixth Story Windows—Several Seriously Injured. Twenty-Six Still Missing, Whose Fates Cannot Be Accounted For.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 12.—A furious and fatal fire occurred here Friday evening, entailing a great loss of life.

At 7:30 a fire was discovered in the packing room of the Rochester steam gauge and lantern works, a factory employing a large number of men.

A general alarm was turned in, and the fact that a fire had started in such a dangerous locality caused the greatest excitement all over the city. The building is six stories high, and sixty men were working on the upper floors.

As soon as they learned that fire was beneath them they began jumping from the windows, regardless of the fire escapes. Many were badly injured by these jumps. By 9 o'clock the buildings were completely destroyed.

The scenes at the fire were sickening and heartrending in the extreme.

The following is a list of the casualties so far as learned:

Killed:

John Gall, foreman.
Joseph Danzer, jumped from the sixth floor and was picked up dead.
Henry Snyder, burned internally.
Frank A. Ochs and Joseph Webber.
The injured are:
Frank Siddons, both legs and back broken, will probably die.

Jacob Diehl, night watchman, burned internally and prostrated by shock.

John Devlin, left leg and wrist injured, and these more or less burned and bruised.

Richard Pearce, John Greenover, William Devlin, Frank Froedlin, S. Burkhard, Oscar Knotts, Joseph Burkhard, Charles Diehl, G. Kippert, Stephen Forbes, John Greenover, second by that name, Con. Halleran, John Ball.

Those known to be missing are: Thomas Matthias, S. Robbins, Charles Weber, John Miller, Patrick Cosgrove, Frank Connor, G. Walters, Charles Smith, Robert Pool, Frank Remish and Alfred Cannon. These are known by name to be missing, but until the books are examined it will not be possible to tell who were actually at work.

Three charred and mutilated remains were taken from the ruins in the morning in addition to the five bodies recovered last night. They have not been identified. There are undoubtedly more bodies among the ruins among those who are missing, and whose bodies are probably under the smoking debris is that of Alonzo Stone, whose wife was murdered by the tramp Deacons a year ago last August.

The loss on the lantern works is about $25,000; insurance $179,000.

The cause of the fire is not known.

LATER—Eight bodies have been recovered thus far and twenty-three are reported missing. Five of the dead men have been identified as follows: John Gall, Joseph Danzer, Joseph Webber, Henry Snyder and C. A. Ochs. The other three bodies are charred and burned beyond recognition.

Big Blaze in New York City.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Cornell, Bingham & Company's paper bag factory, corner of Worth street and Mission Place, was burned this morning, causing a loss of $50,000. Other firms in the building, Donaldson Brothers, lithographers; Bennett & Valentine, bookbinders; Markt & Company; hardware, suffered losses aggregating $55,000 by smoke and water. Three men were injured by jumping from the second floor window, one, William Weissburg will die.

It is now learned that seven men were more or less injured by jumping from the windows.

Their names are:
Philip Weissburg, No. 500 East Twelfth street, leg broken, severe scalp wound.

William Tracy, Canton street, Brooklyn, contusion of back and leg.

John Reilly, 17 Chrystie, general contusions.

Frank McKee, 42 Spring street, severe scalp wound.

Timothy King, East Nineteenth street, arm broken.

William Meyer, 153 East Tenth street, arm broken.

John F. Higgins, fireman, fell from a ladder and broke his leg.

All the injured were removed to the Chambers Street hospital.

THE SEVENTH VICTIM.

Details of the Latest Whitechapel Horror.

Sir Charles Warren's Offer.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The seventh ghastly Whitechapel murder has created the wildest excitement. The deed seems to have been the most atrocious of all. The place is within a quarter of a mile of the other murders, and almost within sight of London hospital on Commercial road.

Dr. Gabe, who visited the squalid room in which Mary Jane Kelly, alias Fisher, alias Ginger, had lived, and where her body was found before it was cold, said that in all his experience in the dissecting room never had he seen such ghastliness. The corpse lay, nearly naked, on a blood engorged woolen mattress. The victim's hair was flung upward on the pillow, and matted with gore, as if the murderer had there first wiped his hands, and the next his telltale fingers. The nose and ears were sliced away; the throat was cut from left to right, so that the vertebrae alone prevented a headmanlike severance.

Below the neck was the appearance such as the carcass of a sheep presents in the abattoir, with the ribs and backbone exposed and cleared of the stomach, entrails, heart and liver. These three organs were placed carefully beside the mutilated trunk, after the fashion of a butcher shop. As on previous occasions the uterus and ovarian adjuncts were missing. The flesh on each side of a cut on the median line was carefully folded an inch or two away from the cut, and from the hip to the ankles the flesh was shredded more or less with an apparent savageness of purpose. It must have been the work of perhaps a full half-hour.

The woman was twenty-six. She was a servant a short time before, but since dwelling in Cartin's court had made a scant living by a life of shame.

At 8:15 Friday morning she went out with a jug to get milk. At 10 she was drinking in a beer shop. The night before she was told she must pay her rent or be turned out.

Lodgers in the same house say she went out into the street, picked up a man for pay, and returned to her room, where the two indulged in drinking and singing. Bowyer, agent for the landlord, called at about 11 o'clock Friday to collect the rent. The door was locked. Through a window he saw the woman on her back naked, horribly mutilated, and the examination showed the mutilation had not been done by a skilled hand.

A young woman who knew Kelly says the victim declared the previous night she would do away with herself. Soon after a man respectfully dressed came up, offered her money and accompanied the murdered woman home. Mrs. Faunier, who sells walnuts near by, says a man about thirty came up and spoke to her Friday about the murder. He seemed to know all about it. He spoke several times to the girls in the neighborhood, and he carried a mysterious black bag containing "something the ladies don't like."

Sir Charles Warren, commissioner of the Metropolitan police, has offered a free pardon to any accomplice of the murderer of the last victim of the East End who will give information leading to the capture of the fiend. Later information shows that the murdered woman was a native of Limerick, who migrated to Wales, where she married a collier, who was killed in an explosion. After her husband's death she came to London.

DUN & COMPANY.

The Volume of Legitimate Business Wonderfully Well Maintained.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: The volume of legitimate business has been wonderfully well maintained during the past week, as during the whole political campaign. And this is the most remarkable because, in the months preceding those of political excitement, speculation had been unusually active and extravagant. There has come a more confident tone in many branches of business, and a larger trade with improving prices usually anticipated as a result of the postponement of very many operations and purchases in past months.

In the reports from interior points generally it is noteworthy that the aggregate of transactions was large for only five working days. At all cities reporting money continued in fair or active demand, while scarcely any complaint of stringency is heard, and collections, though somewhat interrupted, have been on the whole satisfactory, with improvement noted in several cases. The large volume of currency in circulation, together with the temporary inactivity of speculation, explains the matter. The circulation of all kinds of money reached $1,597,871,668 November 1, being $41,500,000 larger than a year ago. In the past week, the treasury has also paid out $1,700,000 more than it has taken in.

The report of anthracite and bituminous furnaces in blast showed a weekly output of 128,340 tons, against 119,189 a month ago and 130,487 a year ago. An output of charcoal from the increase of about 7 per cent. in the month of October makes the weekly output only 112 per cent. smaller than at this date last year. The increase of late has been mainly in southern production. No change in prices is recorded as yet. Steel rails have been at very low figures. In all 40,000 tons were taken by the Vanderbilt roads and as much more by other companies, and it is reported that large orders can yet be placed at not more than $27.

The wool market has been decidedly more active and stronger, but while a more confident feeling prevails in the dry goods trade, improvement in orders of purchases is not yet observed. Cotton goods have been firm, with a strong undertone. The boot and shoe trade is firm and actual deliveries this year thus far have been 7 to 8 per cent. larger than last year, with net prices averaging a shade better, while stocks are unusually narrow. The coke and coal trade is very active at Pittsburgh, and the output of anthracite coal, 913,849 tons for 31,161,500 tons, has been for the year thus far 31,161,500 tons, against 27,879,463 last year, a gain of nearly 12 per cent.

Exports fell 6 per cent. below last year's at New York, while imports here in October were about 4 per cent. below last year's. Prices of the chief exportable products still rule so high as to prevent a free movement, and wheat has advanced during the past week about one cent, with sales of 31,500,000 bushels; corn has advanced two and a fourth cents with sales of 5,500,000 bushels; oats have advanced five-eighths of a cent; pork twenty-five cents per barrel; oil one and a fourth cent, with small trading; cotton one-sixteenth cent, with sales of 365,000 bales; and coffee has remained steady, with sales of 234,000 bags during the week. Transactions in stocks have not been heavy; prices have scarcely changed at all in the aggregate.

The business failures during the past week number 236, as compared with 275 last week, and 234 the week previous. For the corresponding week of last year the total was 245.

KANSAS SNOWFLAKES.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
 Proprietors.

MONDAY EVE., NOV. 12, 1888.

The colored troops fought nobly for the Republican ticket, but they will never be thought of in the scramble over the offices.

Perfect unity and harmony among Democrats is necessary from this on. The sooner the leaders as well as the rank and file learn this the better it will be for the party.

The Republicans who have been harping about carrying Kentucky will please cast their optics on that 40,000 Democratic majority. The grand old Commonwealth is all right.

"UNITED we stand, divided we fall." The Democratic party throughout the length and breadth of the land must adopt this as their rallying cry. Perfect unity is necessary from now on.

If the admission of Dakota, Montana and Washington territories to the sisterhood of States will add strength to the Republican party, they will not be kept out very long after the next Congress meets.

The colored brethren will very likely have to remain "hewers of wood and drawers of water" in the Republican camp. The offices will be divided among the white brethren, as they always have been.

The scramble over the offices among local Republicans promises to be the liveliest, as well as the most bitter, ever witnessed. The "pie" is not large enough to go round, and some of the boys will get left.

The New York Herald nominates Cleveland as the Democratic standard-bearer in 1892. That will not suit the boys around here. They want some one who will promise to fire every Republican "rascal" in short order.

REPUBLICANS always think more of legislating for the good of their party than for the good of their country, and they can be relied on now to resort to all tricks and schemes to strengthen themselves and prolong their power.

SOME of the negroes of this city were promised that their children would be allowed to go to the white schools if Harrison was elected. This has leaked out since the election, and it shows how badly scared the white Republicans were over the colored voter. They resorted to any promise they could think of to hold the "nigger" in line.

REPUBLICANS are the greediest set of office-seekers we know of. They want the earth. One of them from Robertson County was in town a few days ago with a petition asking that he be appointed Wharfmaster. He is a decidedly verdant character, and was made to believe the other offices had all been gobbled up. Wharfmaster Phister, a staunch Republican himself, is having lots of fun over the matter. We will not be surprised to hear of some of them asking that Mayor Pearce, Judge Coons, County Clerk Ball, Circuit Clerk Parry and Sheriff Dan Perrine be compelled to give up their positions.

We stated some days ago that the Republican corruption fund had more to do with the defeat of the Democrats than anything else. We are still of that opinion. The following from the Louisville Times' Washington correspondence is all that is needed to confirm our position:

A prominent Republican, who was on the inside of things in the campaign, said to me: "Yes, we had plenty of money. Chairman Quay had a round million dollars in his hands at one time. The National Committee sent $30,000 to Indiana, and St. Louis added $75,000 and Chicago $50,000 at one time to that sum. We sent $100,000 cash in one pile to Brooklyn Saturday night before election, and $10,000 to Delaware."

Echoes From the Election.

Speaker Carlisle carried Kenton County by 1,264 majority.

Cleveland carried Campbell County by 19 votes, but Carlisle lost it by 145.

Lawrence County, Burchett's home, gave him only 87 majority. Republicans were counting on 125.

There is talk at Lexington that Colonel Swope will contest Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge's election.

Burchett's official majority in Lewis is 365. The Major will have to call on Judge Thomas for an explanation.

Paynter's official majority in Bath County is 196. This is about double the usual Democratic majority in that county of late years.

The official count gives Burchett 157 majority in Boyd County, while Harrison got 229. And the Republicans said Burchett was popular.

The total vote of Adams County, Ohio, was 6,025. The Democratic majorities on the county, State and national tickets range from 23 to 178.

PAID BACK WITH INTEREST.

Notable Deeds of William Tarr, of Bourbon County, in Helping Young Men.

The Paris Kentuckian relates circumstances that do great credit to human nature. Lieutenant-Governor Bryan, of this State, and his brother, ex-State Senator Bryan, of Nashville, Tenn., were reared in Bourbon as sons of a poor but intelligent Irish emigrant.

Senator Bryan was years ago loaned by William Tarr, of Bourbon, $425 to complete his education as a lawyer, which enabled him to become prominent in his profession at Covington, Ky., but marrying Miss Campbell, of Tennessee, he located at Nashville, where his ability, has secured him success. In a recent note to William Tarr, he says:

"Years ago you voluntarily advanced me $425 dollars to enable me to complete the course at the Law School of the Kentucky University, coupling the loan with the generous suggestion that I need never pay you more than the principal, and not then unless entirely convenient. . . . I now have the pleasure of enclosing you my certified check for $918, covering principal and interest to date. May I add an expression of sincere appreciation for your great kindness to me, and the assurance that repaying the money does not cancel the debt of gratitude I owe you."

Lieutenant-Governor Byran was educated in part by Garth Fund of Bourbon, which was left by William Garth for the education of "poor, sprightly young men of Bourbon." Although Mr. Garth was lost on Lake Michigan, in 1890 with his wife and his two half sisters, by sinking of the steamer Lady Elgin, yet he will live forever in the perpetual fund which will in all time to come educate young men to honor his memory. Already successful lawyers, preachers, editors, professors, business men, etc., owe their rise to this Garth Fund. Mr. Tarr is connected with the Garth family, having married one of Wm. Garth's nieces.

Mr. Tarr also loaned Robert Kern, of Bourbon, a sum to complete his education, and he also returned the gift, he having become a most successful lawyer in St. Louis, and recently declined a candidacy for Congress.

Its Delicacy of Flavor and the efficacy of its action have rendered fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, immensely popular. It cleanses and tones up the clogged and feverish system, and dispels headaches, colds and fevers. For sale in 50 cent and $1 bottles.

THERE are already four applicants for the position of postmaster, and the returns are not all in.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

MAYS LICK.

The marriage of Miss Mollie Ryan, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Piper, to Mr. P. P. Parker, of Maysville, Thursday at the Presbyterian Church was a brilliant event. Mayslick put on her rainbow-tinted clothes that day and in the glittering of the sunshine, between the showers, presented a radiant appearance. The handsome auditorium of the church seemed to need embellishment with its beautifully frescoed ceiling and tinted walls but the floral designs with graceful festoonings heightened the artistic effect, thanks to the good taste of Mrs. W. T. Spears and Mrs. Sallie McElroy. Daylight had been excluded and the chandeliers were ablaze. Every pew was occupied with well-dressed people. The special organist, Professor Frost, was early at his post and played some exquisite sonatas from the classic operas, during the arrival of the guests. At 10:30 o'clock as the organ pealed forth the inspiring notes of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the bridal party entered the church edifice. Mr. Ed Martin acted as best man, Sanford Roff, Dr. C. C. Owens, J. C. Everett and John Adamson, attendants.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Spears, of the Presbyterian Church. It was an original service lengthy, obligatory and solemn.

The bride, who is a beautiful demi-blonde of an attractive type, never looked more lovely than in her wedding gown of ivory white taille Empire. The long court train was laid in graceful folds and finished with heavy rich ruche. The entire front of the dress was point d'Alencon lace and the sleeves were a la directoire. From her coiffure floated a long veil of white tulle over her entire figure. Her gloves were of undressed kid, her ornaments diamonds. The maid of honor, Miss Mamie Caldwell, looked charming in her snowy costume and graceful train, the duplicate of the bride's. She was the bride's e-cort, preceded by the boy and girl torch-bearers, Frank Lawwill and Florence Robb. Just at the critical moment, when that mystical metamorphosis took place and Miss Piper became Mrs. Parker, her maid of honor removed the veil that concealed her face and handed her a bouquet of Mareschal Niel rosebuds. The effect upon the audience was electrical, and the music and the living tableau of lovely women acting as bride's maids made a striking pageant, "as fair as e'er the sun shone on."

The bridesmaids were costumed as follows: Miss Maria Warder, cream surah and lace; Miss Mary Robb, pearl white and lace; Miss Zuba La, than, pearl white and lace; Miss Sallie Shanklin, lavender surah and moire front.

After the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the elegant residence of the bride's parents, "Forest Retreat," where a reception was held and a wedding breakfast served to about fifty guests. The menu was elaborate, delicious and highly enjoyed. Many of the neighboring towns were represented.

The presents were elegant and numerous, in gold, silver, steel and china. When train time was announced the pair were handed into their carriage, when they took the train for Covington, thence to Old Point Comfort, &c. They left amidst a shower of rice, the horse shoe and traditional slipper being thrown after them, followed by good wishes and tears.

A WHOPPER.

The Lexington Drummer's Account of the Capture of a Monster Cat fish

Joe Mulhatton, of the Lexington Drummer, must have been in Maysville last week. No better evidence of this is needed than the following rather fishy story taken verbatim from Saturday's issue of that truthful paper:

SPECIAL to the Drummer.
MAYSVILLE, KY., Nov. 8, 1888.—The largest cat-fish ever heard of in the United States, and probably in the world, was caught here to-day by Messrs. Frank Owens, George A. Atkinson, Henry Warren and Sam. Riley, tellers of the First National Bank.

Getting into a skiff they proceeded down the Ohio river to a favorite fishing place known as Beasley's Hole. They were fishing for salmon and black bass, and Mr. Warren also had a long piece of trot-line which they baited and threw overboard, tying the other end to the skiff. Presently the trot-line was jerked violently, nearly upsetting the skiff. In a moment after a tremendous cat-fish about ten feet long jumped clear out of the water, trying to shake the hook out of its mouth. It then started off, carrying the skiff and its load at railroad speed down the river. People along the river front were surprised to see the skiff flying through the water, moved by an unseen power. A good many thought the fishing party had hung the Sea Serpent seen a few days ago in Licking river, at Cynthiana. The fish still continued on down stream to the mouth of Eagle Creek, when it turned and started up stream. It kept straight ahead, passing the city and around the bend of the river out of sight. It was a novel and exciting affair, but the gentlemen in the boat enjoyed it, knowing that the fish would get tired before it reached Pittsburg. At Manchester, twelve miles above Maysville, the huge fish struck the bow of the little steamer Handy, breaking her knee and springing a leak. So great was the shock that it threw the pilot out of the boat. The force of the collision stunned the fish, which came to the surface. Messrs. Owens and Riley pulled their pistols and fired five shots each into the monster, killing it. They then towed it back to Maysville, where Mr. Warren cut the fish up and sold it to dealers. The fish weighed 680 pounds and the steaks cut off were as big as the head of a barrel.

In the stomach of the fish were found a small skeleton, three gold watches, four big hog-chain nuts, weighing five pounds each, and a leather pocket-book containing $35 in greenbacks of 1861 issue. The book was white, the acid of the fish's stomach taking all the tan color out. A small piece of a silver dollar, that had been dissolved by the acid, was also found. Strange to relate the big iron nuts were nickle-plated evidently from the dissolved silver dollar.

Colonel Owens has the head of the fish on exhibition at his store, and Dr. Kav. Adamson has the skeleton which he pronounces to be that of a negro child. This is no fish lie, but a fact, which can be attested by either of the gentlemen named. Also by Dr. John Fleming, Harry Wadsworth, Colonel Ed. Myall and Major Thomas Chenoweth.

If you are looking for bridal presents and want to get them at the lowest possible prices go to S. Simon's china store on Market street. The dividend to be paid in January on stock will be 6½ per cent., perhaps more.

MR. JAMES N. KEHOE's many friends will be very much gratified to learn that he is starting out well in his chosen profession. The Louisville Courier Journal compliments him highly in the following. It says: "Mr. James N. Kehoe, who was sworn in as an attorney of the Chancery Court last week, is another of those young men who make their way in the world by their own exertions. He came here a year or eighteen months ago to study law and has succeeded in passing a thorough examination before the Court of Appeals. His many friends throughout the State, and more particularly the eastern part, will learn of his entree into law with much gratification. Two or three excellent propositions have been made to him to enter active practice here, but as yet he has not accepted any of them. That he will succeed in his new field is an assured fact."

Probably the largest land owner in the world is the Duke of Sutherland. He owns 1,358,545 acres in Great Britain, and he has bought about half a million acres in America. Does he "want the earth?"

D. S. Offut, near Payne's depot, has two varieties of strawber ies which are now bearing ripe berries, and have continuously since the regular strawberry season. The yield is not large, but sufficient to afford an occasional supply for the table. —Lexington Gazette.

Auctioneer Goggin reports the following sales of property for the estate of Alfred McAtee, deceased: 4 cows $59.50; 2 calves, $42.00; 3 small calves, $13.00; 2 yearling calves, $28.00; 3 heifers, $38.50; 3 horses, $58.00; 19 hogs, $181.20; 6 shoats $23.25; 78 shocks of corn, 76 cents a shock; 40 shocks of corn, $1.00 a shock; 50 bushels of corn, 29 cents a bushel.

Mr. Wm. Walker, buyer for the Walker Bros., Covington, has bought several thousand pounds of this season's tobacco crop in Scott County. For the best grades he has given eighteen cents, and so on down to four or five cents, just owing to quality and condition. He says the crop in the entire county will not be over two-thirds of that of last year—Cynthiana News.

Tobacco raisers of Clark County held a meeting at Winchester recently and adopted measures to protect themselves against the combination of dealers who fix prices to suit themselves when they buy, and afterwards elevate prices so as to make a handsome profit. If tobacco growers throughout the State will adopt similar measures it will redound to their benefit.

Train Schedule for the New Road.

Tracklaying on the new railroad was completed to Newport (some days ago, and the bridge over Licking river will be finished in a few days. It was the intention to place regular trains on the road from this city to Covington next Monday, but this will hardly be done now before December 1st, as the rain has delayed the ballasting.

Arrangements have been made for two trains each day between here and Covington. The time-card has not been received, but it is learned that the west-bound trains will leave here at 6 a. m. and 12 m. each day, arriving at Covington at 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. The east-bound trains will leave Covington at 6 a. m. and 4 p. m., arriving at Maysville at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. The official time-card may show some changes in the schedule.

The Penalty for Hitting a Colored Democrat.

At Flemingsburg Saturday afternoon Dennis Madden, colored, was fined $25 and sent to jail ten days for hitting Rev. J. Allen Ross, the colored Democratic orator, about two weeks ago with a rock. Ross was struck on the head while being escorted from the depot to the court house. It was a cowardly deed and Madden deserved the full penalty. The culprit formerly lived in Maysville.

IN A COAL MINE.

One Hundred and Sixty Miners Lose Their Lives.

AN EXPLOSION OF BLACK DAM? SUPPOSED TO BE THE CAUSE.

The Unfortunate Men Entombed in the Shaft Over One Hundred Feet Below the Surface—Heartrending Scenes About the Mouth of the Mine—Frontenac, Kansas, the Scene of the Catastrophe.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 12.—As 160 miners were preparing to leave shaft No. 2, at Frontenac, a suburb of Pittsburg, Kan., Friday evening, a terrific explosion took place, completely shattering the shaft and entombing the men 112 feet below the surface. Only two men, who were in a car coming up, managed to escape.

The explosion was so violent that it broke windows in the village of Pittsburg, hurled dishes from shelves and demolished chimneys. Soon afterward one of the two men who had escaped reached the village with tidings of the disaster.

Horses were quickly harnessed to wagons, and in a few minutes the villagers were hurrying through a fierce snow and sleet storm which was raging.

At the mouth of the mine the tremendous force of the explosion was apparent. There were huge seams in the earth and the large timbers of the hoisting apparatus were shattered and burned. Foul gases were escaping.

Big fires were built near the mouth of the pit, and besides these blazing piles the women of the entombed miners placed their children while they themselves tried by all kinds of entreaties to induce the miners from other shafts to enter the pit and rescue their relatives.

One rescuing party started down the shaft at 7 o'clock, but was forced to turn back, owing to the foul air. Another was made at 9 o'clock, but the plucky rescuers were forced to abandon their work. They could hear no sound from the chambers below, and this leads old miners to believe that all the men in the shaft have perished.

Those who started down the shaft early in the evening saw that the shock had destroyed whole drifts, and that it is probable that the men in the lower levels are buried beneath tons of slate. Black damp is supposed to have caused to explosion. Most of the miners at these shafts came originally from Illinois and Pennsylvania.

FOREIGN.

Two Steamers Sink—Lord Mayor's Day, Battle in Africa—Notes.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A telegram from Havre states that the Cunard steamer Nantes came into a collision thirty-six miles off the Lizard, with the German ship Theodore Ruger, Capt. Meyer, from Hamburg for Sidney, October 1, and that both vessels sank. A portion of the ship's crew was landed at Trouville. The fate of the rest of the crew and of the steamer's crew is unknown.

The Nantes was an iron screw steamer of 949 net tons. She was bark rigged and was built in 1873.

Threatened Exposure.

NICE, Nov. 12.—The American favorites of the king of Wurtemberg left here the other day for Monte Carlo, where they now are. They laugh at the idea of being exposed, and say that in such event they will publicly expose their curious relationship to the king.

Three Thousand Killed.

CAIRO, Nov. 12.—Seventy thousand followers of the Mahdi attacked the town of Wadai, west of Darfour. The garrison repulsed the assailants and killed three thousand, but the Mahdists reattacked and captured the town. The sultan of Wadai fled to Ghiri.

House Collapsed.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A house collapsed on Titchfield street, causing the death of six persons and the injury of twenty.
